

Tax Tip

Week of June 27, 2011

Use Leasing to Reduce Commission Income

Taxpayers who earn commission income are not allowed to claim capital cost allowance on computers, faxes and cell phones. If money is borrowed to finance the purchased, the interest expense is not deductible. However, if these assets are leased, rather than purchased, these payments may be deductible.